PILGRIMAGE PLANS MADE

Other Events Include Alumni and President's Receptions Baccalaureate and Commencement

Beginning at 10 o'clock on the morning of June 3 the final day of Senior Week will open with the first Class Day program ever staged by a Senior Class of George Washington, and promises to be one of the most interesting events on the Senior Week Calendar.

Included in the Class Day exercises will be greetings from the presidents of the Senior classes, a class history, class poem, class prophecy, mantel oration when the reins of the Senior Class are officially handed over to the Juniors, ivy oration at the planting of ivy from Mount Vernon or Corcoran Hall, and a valedictorian and salutatory addresses. The exercises will last one hour and will be varied with class and college songs.

The valedictorian address will be given by that graduating Senior in the University who has attained the highest scholastic average during his college course; the salutatory address will be given by the girl in Columbian College who has the highest scholastic average.

The Senior Prom is the outstanding social event on the Week Calendar and promises to be one of the most brilliant social gatherings of the school year. The Prom will be held Friday night, May 29, from 10 until 2, in the large ballroom of the New Willard. Music will be furnished by 12 pieces of Meyer Davis' orchestra. Favors have already been received by the committee and placed in cold storage. Also very attractive programs in buff and blue have been ordered. Tickets have been placed on sale and may be secured from Treasurer's office, offices of the Secretary of the Law School and Medical School, and from the Senior presidents and members of the Senior Week Committee at $5 a couple.

Plans have also been carefully made for those members of the Senior Class who attend the annual pilgrimage to Mount Vernon. Arrangements have been made for the class to go by boat to Mount Vernon. Luncheon will also be provided and be included in the price of the tickets. Special tickets for the excursion, which include the trip, admission to the grounds, and luncheon, have been printed and may be secured from the University offices or from members of the Senior Week Committee.

The entire Senior Week program includes the Alumni Reception Wednesday night, May 27, at the Washington Club; the Prom on the 29th; the Baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, the 31st; the pilgrimage to Mount Vernon and the Faculty-Pyramid baseball game on Monday, June 1; a reception to be given by President and Mrs. Lewis on Tuesday evening, June 2; and the Class Day program in the morning and Commencement exercises in the evening of June 3.

SHOW MEDICAL STUDENTS COLE FILMS OF STOMACH

Moving pictures of the stomach in action were shown the medical students last Thursday as part of a series of films on gastric motor phenomena and pulmonary tuberculosis, exhibited by a representative of the American Medical Films, Inc. They represent the work of Dr. Lewis Gregory Cole of New York City and were made largely from X-ray pictures.

Several reels showed X-rays of the various types of stomach, designated cowhorn, fishhook, text-book and drain-trap, depending upon the position which the stomach assumed in the individual. Following this the normal peristalsis of the stomach, or the movements by which the stomach propels its contents onward, were depicted both diagrammatically and by actual pictures of a normal stomach in action. Other reels showed X-ray pictures of the lungs with the changes resulting in it in the various stages of pulmonary tuberculosis.

HISTORY CLUB CLOSSES YEAR WITH BANQUET

Arrangements have been completed for the History Club's annual banquet, to be held on June 4, at the Grace Dodge Hotel. The program committee have some interesting surprises under way and promise a most enjoyable affair as the last of the commencement festivities. It has been customary to extend an invitation to all history students in the University who desire to attend and who can be accommodated. Tickets may be secured from Miss Marshino, Miss Feehan or Miss Ericson, of the banquet committee, upon payment of a subscription of two dollars, or by members upon presentation of the treasurer's receipt for dues in full to date.

MENS GLEE CLUB CLOSE ENGAGEMENT AT RIALTO

Club to Make First Theater Appearance Early In June For One Week

Mischa Guterson, director of the Rialto Theater Orchestra, will direct the George Washington Glee Club, when they begin their week's run at the Rialto, probably the first week in June.

The engagement is definitely arranged except for the date, which will be set very soon. This marks the first theater engagement that the Club has had, and much of the Club's future work will depend on the showing made during this run.

Under direction of Robert Harmon and Conductor Guterson the Club has made excellent progress, with special attention given to the program to be presented at the Rialto. Both the directors and members are much elated over the work of the Club, and confidently predict a big run.

In addition to the program broadcasted by the entire Club Monday night over WCAP, a subscription dance will be held at the new gymnasium May 14. A program will be rendered by members of the Club as a part of the entertainment. Admission, 75 cents.

After the dance and Rialto run are over, the Club will have closed one of its most successful seasons. Numerous programs and appearances have been made, in addition to several radio engagements. Robert Harmon, director, is well pleased with the work of the Club.

TRUSTEE DONATES BOOK TO UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

Perry Belmont, a member of the board of trustees of the University, has just given to the University Library a copy of his new book, "National Isolation an Illusion." The difference between political independence and isolation, and the interdependence of the United States and Europe are the chief subjects of his work.

The preface to the book reads: "This volume has been written to maintain the contention that the United States has never been isolated, and that there has been no break in the interdependence of the United States and Europe; that the Democratic party, created at the birth of our democratic Republic, preponderant when our foreign policy was formulated, disrupted when the country was rent asunder by civil war, surviving and reuniting at the restoration of the Union, derives its indestructible vitality from the principles upon which it was instituted—principles which lie at the foundation of the government of the Republic. In the defense of these fundamental principles against destructive influences the Democrat and the Republican who upholds our democratic Republic should be equally engaged."

The book has just been published by G. P. Putnam's Sons, (1925).

G. W. MAY BE FIRST TO GRADUATE "ON THE AIR"

George Washington University may be the first university to have its graduation "on the air" if plans of the administration are carried out. The commencement exercises will be held in the Washington Auditorium on June 3d and Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, noted New York divine, will deliver the principal address, which will be broadcasted. It will probably be his last address before leaving for Europe a few days later.

FIRST PLAYS GIVEN IN DRAMA FESTIVAL

TWO MORE PERFORMANCES

Dionysians to Give Two Plays Tonight; Troubadours Close Series Saturday

The Dramatic Festival was opened by the Mimes, Tuesday, May 5, in the new Gymnasium Theater, with a short "snappy" program, consisting of two one-act plays, a dance drama, and a few musical selections. The productions went off very smoothly in spite of the fact that several of the actors had been suffering from "grippe" a few days before and had feared would not be on hand for the show.

The program was carefully chosen by the leaders of the Mimes for its diversity of interest and presented a well-balanced effect. "Judge Lynch," a tragedy with the evil of lynching as its theme, was the direct antithesis of "Society Notes," a frothy comedy of would-be society people, while a Pierrot and Pierrette dance pantomime offered a pleasing interlude between the plays.

About a hundred persons were present and, while there were some seats not occupied, quite a good showing was made.

The second event of the festival was given by the G. W. Players, in the presentation of a three-act play, "The Importance of Being Earnest," by Oscar Wilde. This is an extremely amusing and typically British production and was exceptionally well given by the talent selected from the players.

A fairly large and very appreciative audience was present, judging from the chuckles throughout the performance.

Between acts the silver cup, offered by Phi Gamma Delta for that producing club presenting the best program during the Dramatic Festival, was exhibited, and an announcement made to the effect that the cup would be on exhibition in the library at Lister Hall until the date of its presentation.

Programs, in booklet form, giving the history of the various dramatic organizations, were on sale at both performances, and quite a number were purchased.

Two More Performances

Half of the Dramatic Festival is now completed. The other two performances are scheduled for the last week before exams. On Tuesday, May 12, the Dionysians will present two one-act plays from the historical drama: "The Silent Woman," by Ben Jonson, and "The Duchess of Malfi," by John Webster, are the ones selected for presentation.

On Saturday, May 16, the Troubadours will show "The Miniature Lady," an operetta by R. M. Stults and Lida Larrimore, ending the festival on a note of frivolity, music and dance.

AWARD APPLICATIONS MUST BE IN BY MAY 20

Recommendations for the activities medal, awarded annually by the Gamma Eta Chapter of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity to the Senior who has done the most constructive work towards the upbuilding of student activities during his student career at George Washington University, must be submitted to Prof. Elmer Louis Kayser, chairman on the committee on awards, before May 20. The nominations may be placed before the committee by any student of the University. They must, however, be written and contain a detailed statement of offices held by the nominee and activities in which he has been engaged.

This medal has been awarded annually for a number of years by Delta Tau Delta as an endeavor to promote interest in student activities and to reward that student who has displayed the greatest interest in school affairs. The term activity has been broadly interpreted by the committee and not limited to a certain few. Journalism, athletics, rifle-team, dramatics, debate, and social activities in general, comprise the fields from which the award may be made. Each recommendation is carefully considered by the committee and the award announced in the commencement program.

BOOKS MUST BE RETURNED BEFORE LIBRARY CLOSURES

All books and magazines withdrawn from the University Library must be returned by the time the library closes on Wednesday, May 27, the close of the examination period.

A record is not clear as long as there is a charge for books or magazines against a student, and the failure to return them will be referred to the Dean and the Treasurer of the University for action.

FINALS IN CONTEST TO BE HELD FRIDAY

Ruth Newburn to Represent G. W. In Eastern Finals of Oratorical Contest

Finals in the Eastern division of the National Intercollegiate Oratorical contest will be held in the auditorium of Corcoran Hall of George Washington University next Friday evening, May 15, at 8 o'clock, with Ruth Newburn competing for George Washington. Contestants to compete in the finals Friday have been chosen as the seven best from the colleges and universities of the Eastern states.

The finalists are Ruth Newburn of George Washington, Eugene D. Carstatter of Bucknell University, Selden Y. Trimble, Jr., of Swarthmore College, Freda Wadsworth of Cedar Crest College, George W. Creitz of Franklin and Marshall College, E. B. Everitt of State College, and P. W. Heist of Muhlenburg College, the latter all located in Pennsylvania.

The first selections within most of the colleges were made upon speaking ability. Then the best orator in each college submitted his speech to a board of manuscript judges, who selected the seven best. These seven in each region will compete for the regional championship in each of the seven regions, and each regional champion will go to Los Angeles for the final meeting on June 5.

Seven prizes totaling $5,000 will be awarded, each of the seven regional champions being assured of one of the prizes at the Los Angeles meeting by the Better America Federation of California, which body is sponsoring the contest. Prizes are $2,000, $1,000, $500, $450, $400, $350, and $300.

The ratings given by the manuscript judges will not be taken into consideration by the final judges, who will pass upon the finalists strictly on their platform performance. Judges for the contest were selected on the basis of "composite preference," nominations made by the colleges themselves, and include many of the most famous teachers of oratory in America's institutions of higher learning.

The orations must be original and must be on the subject of the Constitution, or the relation thereto, of Washington, Hamilton, Jefferson, Madison, Marshall, Webster or Lincoln. They must not require more than ten minutes for delivery. The college contest is under the direction of Randolph Leigh, organizer and director of the National Oratorical Contest for high schools.

TWO INITIATED INTO CHEMICAL SOCIETY

Chi Sigma Gamma chemical sorority celebrated the second anniversary of its founding with a vim, last Thursday night, when they fell upon two pledges and amid all the typical mystery of a college "frat" proceeded to initiate them. The rites were held at The Madrilion and were followed by a banquet.

The speakers of the evening were Dr. Charles E. Munroe, Dean Emeritus of George Washington University; Dr. H. C. McNeil, of the Chemistry Department of the University, and Dr. Louise McDaniel Browne, Miss Marie O'Dea acting as toastmistress.

Comedy for the evening was provided by Pearl Maloney and Anne E. Mix, the initiates, who delivered weighty papers upon such important subjects as soap and toothpaste, the latter being particularly convulsing.

Dr. McNeil spoke of the importance of women in science and of the importance of the sorority in particular in advancing science.

HATCHETITES SWAMP C. U. TRACKMEN 91-26

Catholic U. Team Held to One First Place in Second Dual Meet of Season

GALLAUDET SATURDAY

Aaronson and Loehler Lead Scoring With 19 and 15 Points Respectively

George Washington track artists won their second straight dual meet Saturday at Brookland by swamping Catholic University, 91 points to 26. Led by Aaronson and Loehler, who scored 19 and 15 points, respectively, the Hatchettes held C. U. to a single first place.

Coach Probey's men exhibited their superiority in every event, taking all three places in the pole vault, broad jump, and 2-mile run. Capt. Bill Simmons furnished the features of the day by winning the 440 and 880 yard runs, after coming up from behind and beating out McNulty and Langley, of C. U., at the tape.

Dick Ziegler, George Washington's star "10-second" man, did not run the 100-yard dash owing to a misunderstanding at the start, but he came back and won the 220 in an easy fashion. In the pole vault Harmon and Aaronson again tied for first place at 10 feet 6 inches, while Shipley won the mile run after Howell, of C. U., had been disqualified for pushing him off the track.

Johnnie Loehler set a new mark for this season in the shotput by heaving the big ball 39 feet 10 inches. Andrus, of G. W., finished second with a toss of over 33 feet. Loehler also won the discus throw with 110 feet, Andrus again finishing second. Aaronson and Nichols tied in the high jump for first place, both men clearing 5 feet 6 inches without any other competition. Loehler won his third event of the day by jumping 21 feet 1½ inches in the running broad jump and beating out Aaronson by half an inch.

George Washington presented as pretty a quartet of two-milers in Willett, Anderson, Shipley, and Domigan as any college could wish to have. They finished up, all closely bunched, in the order named and easily outdistanced all C. U. competitors. Hewitt and Nichols each won their heats in the 220-yard hurdles, Hewitt winning first place in 28 seconds against Nichols' 29 1-5 seconds.

G. W. U. DISTANCE STAR TAKES FIVE-MILE RACE

Walter Shipley Wins Over Marine Runner in Aloysius Race Sunday Morning

Walter ("Bill") Shipley, wearing the buff and blue of George Washington University, raced to a driving win over Melvin Leach, Marine runner, in the final 5-mile race of the Aloysius Club, held Sunday morning on the Georgetown University track.

Shipley, distance star of the Hatchet team and former protégé of Bill Foley, Central High School track coach, came from behind to win in a driving sprint by a scant 5 yards over the Marine runner. Dan Healy, of the Aloysius Club, was third.

A new record for the distance was also established in the race, Shipley lowering the mark held by Leach to 27 minutes 25 3-5 seconds for the 5-mile jaunt. He ran a wonderful race, keeping among the leaders for the entire race, and only passing Leach to win by a sprint in the stretch.

Leach took the lead at the sound of the gun, with Domigan, another G. W. U. entry, Shipley, and Healy on his heels. This quartet steadily drew ahead of the others, and it was soon apparent that the race was between them.

At the end of 16 grueling laps the places did not change, but with the start of the last mile Domigan was forced to drop out, and Healy pulled past Shipley. Schaub, of the Apache A. C., fell into fourth place.

This arrangement continued until the nineteenth lap when Shipley passed the tiring Healy and set out after Leach. He overtook the Marine runner in the stretch to win by a scant margin, after one of the most thrilling stretch duels ever witnessed.

WHY SENIOR WEEK

Years may come and years may go, and with each succeeding year comes a new Senior class to George Washington University. After a few short months that Senior class passes on to join the ever-increasing ranks of George Washington alumni, bidding farewell to student life and Godspeed to those left behind.

As years go by and classes pass from the University new projects are planned, new customs set and new traditions made—and sometimes old ones discarded—by the graduating groups. In years past some graduating classes have held a Senior Prom. Last year the class conceived the idea of a Senior Week program, and successfully carried to a conclusion the events outlined in that program. This year the Seniors have gone one step farther and have added greatly to the events to be observed during that eventful week—principally of which is the Class Day program, class valedictorian address, class history, class prophecy and the like.

Just before the Class of '25 become alumni it is only fitting that they should so observe their last week as undergraduates that a pleasant memory of their college career will linger ever after. It is with this one object in view that the committee in charge have spared no effort in making Senior week one to be remembered.

And what could do more during those few tense days between final examinations and the commencement exercises to relieve a Senior's feelings than to be able to devote his idle moments to association with his fellow students. When this week is ended few will return to the student life of his University, and all will regret it if they do not lend their support during those few days to their own classmates. After all there is more to being a Senior than merely receiving a degree.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION

In a recently issued bulletin of the Yale "Alumni Weekly," the Citizens Committee of One Thousand has advised Yale alumni what to do in regard to the commencement liquor question. The article says the question should be settled without further individual opposition on the part of those reunionists who object to being told what to do about the Volstead Act at home.

The Alumni Weekly feels that thoughtless graduates, bent on having an old fashioned good time when coming back for reunions, can undo the efforts of the whole year on the part of the university itself to make its undergraduates understand what it expects of them in this particular.

This seems to be the sentiment not only among the graduates of Yale but of leading college graduates everywhere. It can well be applied to our own university, not only by alumni but by the student body as well. In the words of the Alumni Weekly, "Whatever may be the individual opinion about enforced prohibition in the country, it happens to be the law, and, that being so, there is left to law-abiding citizens one thing to do, and that is to enforce it. Especially is this true of the American university men, who, if any, should be leaders in a public matter of this sort. And especially is it true of the actions of such men when returning to their university."

CORRECTION

In the Hatchet account of Summer School courses printed last week, the course in nature study for teachers was listed as being under Miss Quick. This course is taught by Professor Bartsch.

COLUMBIAN WOMEN ELECT MRS DOYLE PRESIDENT

Miss Elizabeth Wilson, This Year's President, Is Presented Bag By Mrs. Evans

Mrs. Charles I. Corby entertained the Columbian Women of George Washington University at her home on the Rockville Pike on Saturday afternoon, May 2. A profusion of purple pansies and white Easter lilies added to the natural attractiveness of the surroundings. Mrs. Corby was assisted in receiving two hundreds guests by Miss Elizabeth Webb Wilson, president of the Columbian Women.

A feature of the reception was the presentation to Miss Wilson by Mrs. Joshua Evans, Jr., of a beautiful Florentine handbag, a gift to the retiring president by the executive board of the club. In her presentation remarks, Mrs. Evans paid tribute to the phenomenal success of Miss Wilson's administration.

Mrs. William H. Herron announced the results of the election of officers for the coming year, the following being elected: Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle, president; Mrs. DeWitt Clinton Croissant, first vice-president; Mrs. Charles I. Corby, second vice-president; Mrs. Frank R. Butler, recording secretary; Miss H. Lenore Murray, corresponding secretary; Miss Irene M. Pistorio, treasurer; Miss Ruby Nevins, historian.

Elaborate refreshments and a delightful musical program added to the enjoyment of the occasion. Mr. Corby showed his skill as an organist in several selections, and Mrs. Florence McNelly Price sang a group of songs, accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Gardner Coombs.

EXCHANGES

Norway's only university, popularly referred to as the University of Christiania, actually has quite a different name. The official name is the Royal Frederick's University in commemoration of Frederick VI, the last of the Danish Kings who enjoyed sovereignty over Norway.—Daily Kansan.

The three presidential candidates this year were members of Phi Beta Kappa. Coolidge is an alumnus member of Massachusetts Beta, Davis of Virginia Gamma (Washington and Lee), and La Follette of Alpha of Wisconsin. Lowden, who refused the Republican nomination for Vice-President, and Dawes, who was nominated, are members of their respective chapters. The same situation was true in 1912, when Wilson, Roosevelt, and Taft were contesting the election.

The School of Journalism at the University of Oklahoma has published the Oklahoma Weekly, which is sent free to all the seniors in the state. It is a four-page, seven-column publication and contains news of both campus and of high school activities throughout the state.

Following the precedent of last year, Wellesley will again debate a man's school. This time the subject will be on capital punishment and the school debated with will be Dartmouth.

The apple that rocked the earth

"I wonder why?"

In Isaac Newton's mind that question clamored for an answer. Many men had seen apples fall, but this man with the question mark mind found out why they fall—and his answer has helped us to understand the workings of a universe.

Would that we all could get a bite of that apple if it would inspire us too with the "I wonder why" attitude!

Intellectual curiosity is a great and moving force. It mobilizes reluctant facts. It is the stern drill-master which whips into shape that most invincible of armies—sure knowledge.

Curiosity, with the will to sweat out the answer, is the greatest asset you can acquire in your college course. This attribute is needed by industry today more than ever before.

MENORAH SOCIETY HOLDS LAST MEETING

The Menorah Society of George Washington held its final meeting of the school year last Thursday night. At that time the history of the founding of the Society and the work of the officers during the year were reviewed. Officers for the next year were elected and plans made for activities in September.

I. J. Mendelson and Matilda Aaronson were reelected president and treasurer, respectively, while Martin Shefferman was chosen vice-president; Mary Sherman, recording secretary; Fanny Dodek, corresponding secretary, and Joseph Mendelson, reporter.

The Society will have two meetings each month next year, which will be more in the nature of study circles than lectures on Hebrew subjects as has been the practice the past semester. Meetings will be conducted under the supervision of one of the faculty of Johns Hopkins University.

GIRLS TENNIS TEAM WINS TWO MATCHES

UNDEFEATED THIS YEAR

Four Matches Still to Be Played William and Mary Team Due Here May 18

The girls' tennis team has just returned from a most successful trip into Virginia, where they played the Fredericksburg State Teachers' College, winning five out of five matches.

In singles, Frances Walker, captain of the G. W. team, defeated Page Harrison, captain of the Fredericksburg team, 6-2, 6-1; Cecyle Taylor defeated Louise Stewart, 7-5, 6-2; Elizabeth Chickering defeated Virginia Williams, 7-5, 4-6, 6-2.

In doubles, Frances Walker and Cecyle Taylor defeated Miriam Carmel and Elizabeth Fleming, 6-0, 6-0; and Louise Omwake and Edith Petrie defeated Indie Sinclair and Lena Johnson, 7-5, 6-2.

At William and Mary College, the G. W. girls had considerably more difficulty in winning their match. Both teams fought hard for every point, but the girls from George Washington finally emerged the victor, 3-2. It was the hardest played match of the season and the girls deserve credit for their success.

In singles, Frances Walker defeated Anna Wilkins, 6-2, 6-1; Ellen Moody, captain of the William and Mary team, defeated Cecyle Taylor of G. W. in the hardest and closest match of the year, 9-7, 4-6, 11-9; Jane Moss, of William and Mary, defeated Elizabeth Chickering, 6-3, 2-6, 9-7. But the G. W. girls won both of the doubles and thereby gained their victory. Frances Walker and Cecyle Taylor defeated Ellen Moody and Jane Moss, 6-3, 6-4; and Louise Omwake and Edith Petrie defeated Anna Wilkins and Virginia Funkhouser, 6-1, 7-5.

The tennis team has not lost a match this season, and with four matches remaining on the schedule they have hopes of finishing the season undefeated.

George Washington students will have an opportunity to see a good tennis match when the William and Mary girls play the G. W. girls in Washington on May 18.

FOUR CORNERED TIE IN GREEK BASEBALL SERIES

Kappa Sigma, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Sigma Chi Lead Leagues

Honors in the annual Interfraternity Baseball Series, which is now entering its third week, are shared equally by four fraternities—Kappa Sigma, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Sigma Chi—each having two wins to their credit. Plans to play off the four-cornered tie this week had to be dropped when games were postponed on account of rain.

At the beginning of the series the teams were organized into two leagues for the sake of convenience. Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi, and Kappa Alpha make up League No. 1, while League No. 2 consists of Kappa Sigma, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Tau Delta, and Phi Sigma Kappa.

In the first week of the series Kappa Alpha went down to defeat at the hands of Sigma Phi Epsilon by a score of 3 to 1, while Sigma Chi triumphed over Sigma Nu, 11 to 10. The same week in League No. 2 Kappa Sigma defeated Phi Sigma Kappa, 5 to 3, and Delta Tau Delta took its game from Sigma Alpha Epsilon by a 7 to 1 count.

Last week Kappa Alpha lost to Sigma Chi, 6 to 3, while Sigma Nu, weakened by the absence of Hottel from the mound, took a 28 to 2 beating from Sigma Phi Epsilon. In League No. 2 Kappa Sigma walked away with Sigma Alpha Epsilon by a score of 19 to 7, and Delta Tau Delta won its second game, defeating Phi Sigma Kappa, 8 to 1.

When the teams next clash Sigma Phi Epsilon will battle Sigma Chi for the championship of League No. 1, while Kappa Sigma will contest with Delta Tau Delta the honors in League No. 2. The two league winners will then meet in the final game of the series to decide the Interfraternity championship. The victor will receive a silver loving cup offered annually by the council. J. T. White, Kappa Sigma, is chairman of the committee in charge of the series.

League No. 1
Fraternity	W	L
Sigma Phi Epsilon	2	0
Sigma Chi	2	0
Sigma Nu	0	2
Kappa Alpha	0	2
League No. 2
Fraternity	W	L

HATCHET TENNIS PLAYER WINS COLLEGIATE TITLE

W. Carter Baum, star Hatchette tennis player and member of the G. W. U. varsity squad, won the singles championship of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Tennis Association in the annual spring tournament staged at the Columbia Country Club courts last Saturday, defeating Haas of Georgetown in the final round 2-6, 1-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-4.

Displaying rare courage and a fighting spirit when he appeared hopelessly beaten by his Georgetown rival, Baum rallied in the closing minutes of the third set, and won out 7-5, after Haas practically had the title in his grasp. The set was a terrific affair and brought forth some remarkable tennis. In winning it the Buff and Blue man seemed to take the heart out of his opponent and beat him down in the final sets 6-3, 6-4.

It was the first tournament ever won by Baum and he was forced to ascend high tennis heights to defeat the Hilltop man. Time after time during the third set that marked the turning point of the match he faced sure defeat only to rally and take the point and game from his opponent.

Regan and Hicks, of Catholic University, took the double championship of the Association by defeating Baum and Rutley, of George Washington, 2-6, 8-6, 8-6, 6-4. The Hatchette doubles team started away to a strong lead, winning the first set in easy fashion. The Maroon and Black players had only begun, however, and battling hard were able to take the second and third sets at 8-6, after each set had gone to deuce. They finished strongly, winning the match by taking the fourth set 6-4.

In the semi-final round of the singles match Baum defeated Carran, of Georgetown, 6-0, 6-1, and Haas eliminated Rutley, of George Washington, 6-1, 6-2.

Lehigh University defeated George Washington in a dual match played at the Columbia Country Club last Wednesday, winning by a score of 7 to 1. Abrams and Duggan took their doubles match from Doty and Liveridge of the visitors, 9-7 and 10-8, for the only G. W. U. victory. All of the matches were very closely contested, and all but two went for the full three sets.

A summary of the Lehigh match follows:

Singles—Lawall (L.) defeated Baum, 5-7, 7-5, 6-3; Koepler (L.) defeated Abrams, 7-5, 4-6, 6-4; Miller (L.) defeated Rutley, 6-0, 7-5; Hagenbush (L.) defeated New, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2; Doty (L.) defeated Newby, 7-5, 4-6, 6-3; Liveridge (L.) defeated Dugan, 6-4, 6-3.

Doubles—Hagenbush and Miller (L.) defeated New and Newby, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4; Abrams and Dugan (G. W.) defeated Doty and Liveridge, 9-7, 10-8.

URSINUS COLLEGE HOST TO I. N. A. CONVENTION

Representatives of Editorial and Business Staffs of 21 College Papers Hold 11th Meeting

The eleventh annual convention of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States was held at Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa., Friday and Saturday of last week. The convention was the guest of the Ursinus Weekly.

Howard M. Baggett, news editor, represented the University Hatchet at the conference, which was attended by representatives of the editorial and business staffs of 21 college publications of the Middle Atlantic States.

A banquet was given the visiting delegations Friday night in Freeland Hall of the College, after which several distinguished guests spoke to the representatives present.

Dr. Omwake, president of Ursinus College, gave an address of welcome and was followed by Prof. Jos. Melvin Lee, executive secretary of the Association and head of the Department of Journalism at New York University, who spoke on the types of college newspapers and the history of the I. N. A.

George W. Douglas, chief editorial writer of the Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger, spoke on "Does the Editor Have a Call?" The Hon. J. Hampton Moore, former Mayor of Philadelphia and for 14 years a representative to Congress from Pennsylvania, spoke on "The College Man in Government." Howard T. Herber, outgoing editor of the Ursinus Weekly, acted as toastmaster.

During the executive session of the convention, held Saturday morning, officers were elected for the coming year, and reports of the condition of each member paper heard. The Crestiad, of Cedar Crest College, and the Juniata, of Juniata College, were admitted to membership in the Association by a vote of the delegates. The Crestiad is the first paper of a female college admitted to membership.

Professor Lee gave a talk to the editorial group on the editorial, its possibilities and shortcomings. His talk was supplemented by the editor of the Muhlenberg College Weekly who presented statistics concerning the editorial page of member papers. Following the installation of officers the meeting adjourned.

The next district meeting of Section A, of which the Hatchet is a member, is to be held at Delaware University in the fall, while the next general convention will go to Swarthmore College and will be held in May of 1926.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS RE-ELECT OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Student Volunteers of the District of Columbia, held on May 10 at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, Marion Malone was reelected president and Edith Petrie secretary.

Mr. Malone gave a talk on the history of the organization. One hundred years ago five students, returning to college after a church meeting where a missionary had spoken, were caught in a storm. These men took refuge behind a haystack and continued the evening's discussion. All of them became famous in missionary work. It is of interest to know that Luther Rice, one of these men, founded Columbian College as a missionary training school. The Student Volunteers, while not directly descended from the "Haystack Conference," has its accomplishments as an example. The actual organization of the Student Volunteers in the University was in 1923, and since then its work has been carried on by students anticipating work in the field of foreign missions. Its slogan is:

"World Evangelization in This Generation."

The Rev. Mr. Sizoo told of a tomb in Madras, India, which is claimed to hold the remains of the apostle St. Thomas. According to the legend, the "Doubter," after having been freed of his doubts, traveled farther than any of the apostles. This, Mr. Sizoo pointed out, well illustrated the broadening influence of work dedicated to God.

The Student Volunteers are planning a picnic for the 12th of June.

SURFACE CRAFT NEEDED SAYS CAPT. CLEVERRUS

Aircraft Not Sufficient; Need Three Plane Navy, Says Chapel Speaker

"The tendency is growing to criticize in an unfavorable manner our national institutions," said Captain Cleverus, U. S. Navy, survivor of the 'Maine' tragedy in Havana harbor, 1898, and commander of the mine-laying fleet in the North Sea, 1918, in presenting the Navy's viewpoint toward modern warfare to the students of George Washington University at chapel, Wednesday, May 6.

"This," continued the captain, "the Navy views with alarm. The United States has assumed responsibilities of world-wide scope and it is the duty of the Navy to see that they are fulfilled. The military forces of the United States do not make war, but bring order out of chaos when the best efforts of statesmen have been futile. Great armaments are a burden, but a sufficient force must be obtained afloat equal to the burden of these responsibilities.

"New problems of war, new elements in method, must and are being taken cognizance of by naval experts." The captain then spoke of the permanency of the role to be played by the submarine and the airplane, and described the efforts being made to create a "three-plane" navy, composed of sub-surface, surface, and aircraft. "Sea-fighting, however, has but one natural plane of action, the surface, and the day of the capital ship has not passed. That ship must be modified to meet the new problems of today, but it is still the prime factor and foundation of all activities in naval warfare. No doubt in the future all capital ships will be airplane carriers.

"Fighting would not be done on our coasts, but thousands of miles away, necessitating," he claimed, "the transportation of planes to the war area. Should a naval battle be fought on our coasts, the resulting victory or defeat would involve a general court-martial for all the officers responsible."

In commenting on the world-flight by the U. S. Army flyers, the captain naively stated that it was made possible by the bridge of ships stretched across the seas by the Navy, stationed at strategic points to render the necessary assistance. He also spoke of the Navy's plans to map Arctic regions this summer, and gave an idea of the vast knowledge that may be gained.

GAY COSTUMES FILL GYM FOR MAY BALL

FEATURE DANCES GIVEN

Prizes For Best Costumes Are Awarded Miss Dottie Thomas and Tom Somerville

The spirit of carnival reigned supreme at the Engineering Society's May Ball, Friday evening, May 8. The gymnasium was converted into a suitable setting for the affair by the untiring efforts of the decoration committee. The rough bareness of the gym was entirely concealed by soft gray drapery. Brightly colored balloons and gay crepe paper festooning hung from the ceiling, while the weird colors of the fraternity banners decorated the side walls.

Happy Walker's personally conducted Black and White Orchestra occupied the stage and furnished symphony for approximately two hundred merry revelers from 10 until 1 o'clock.

Although a good number of couples attended in conventional attire, the majority entered into the spirit of the occasion by donning costumes. Picturesque Spanish and gypsy make-ups seemed to be the favorites, but a generous sprinkling of fancy military uniforms, hicks, little girls, pirates, and ballet costumes added variety to the picture.

The first prize of $5 for the best girl's costume went to Miss Dottie Thomas, a nonuniversity girl. She was attractively dressed in a semi-colonial pique affair, carrying out the color scheme of black and white. Her partner wore the conventional Pierrot costume, also in black and white. They were unanimously declared the most attractive costumes on the floor. The prize for men was awarded to Tom Somerville, for his clever disguise as a gentleman. This award consisted of a flask and a bottle of suspiciously colored liquid. Dean Hugh Miller, of the Engineering School, presented the prizes with appropriate remarks.

Another attractive feature of the evening's merry making was a spotlight waltz. All the lights were turned off and a colored spotlight, operated by Ernest Kline, followed the dancers about the floor to the intriguing strains of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

During the intermission the Hooper Brothers executed some clever soft shoe numbers, and Jimmie Naylor entertained with an eccentric dance.

Immediately following the intermission a huge bag of confetti was dragged into the middle of the floor. From then on the affair resolved itself into a good-natured confetti battle and was characterized by that type of jollification which only a costume ball can engender.

Among the guests of honor were Dean Rose, Miss Kincannon, Dean Miller, and Professor Ames.

BIG GAME WILL DECIDE G. W. DIAMOND HONORS

Pyramid Over-Confident of Victory While Faculty Practices In Dead Secrecy

The Faculty and the Pyramid will play a game of ball. Sounds like a nursery rhyme on the face of it but it's a serious and breath-taking encounter in spite of its apparent lighter vein. At least so the Faculty think for their training schedule is so rigorous that it makes the schedule of the Nats over the last Spring training season seem mere child's play in comparison. It is behind closed doors or barricaded gates—whichever you choose—that the Profs are going through their workouts and woe betide the unfortunate student that stumbles upon them in their secret retreat.

The line-up is a secret—they mean to keep it so—but it is a safe bet that June 2nd in the afternoon (that's when the game occurs) will see no less able athletes on the diamond than Big Bill (Prexy) Lewis, Profs. Hall, Doyle, Croissant, Borden, Bolwell, etc., Dean Miller, maybe, and even Coach Crum ready to do battle for the staid honor of the teaching profession.

The Pyramid, on the other hand, are much more confident of victory. They don't mind who sees them air their stuff—no prof could get on to it anyway, they figure—so they dream nightly of a complete coat of whitewash for the Faculty, or when in a particularly troubled mood of a ten-to-one score inclining their way. They admit, however, that they are just as thankful that the game is to come after marks are in—they fear they wouldn't stand a ghost of a chance of getting by if it were not after the lacing the Faculty is going to get.

We say—may the best bet come through—our money is on the nose.

GROWTH OF WOMEN'S COUNCIL IS TRACED

Mrs. L. A. Mead, American Delegate to International Council Speaks On Work and Future

"The Women's International Conference is bringing us all together and helping us to realize our common humanity," said Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead of Massachusetts, American representative of the Women's International Council which is now meeting in Washington, in her talk Monday, May 4, in chapel.

Mrs. Mead mentioned May 18, which has been set aside as International Good Will Day, as an example of the get-together work which the Council is forwarding. "It is to make us realize," she said, "that we are all first of all human beings, citizens of the world."

The growth of the Council has been steady since the idea was first conceived by Mrs. Susan B. Anthony and Mrs. May Wright Suell in 1888, Mrs. Mead said. Today it is a clearing house of 38 different organizations, having started from the union meeting of six organizations, which included the Young Women's Christian Association, the League of Women Voters, and the Women's Christian Temperance Union. This great meeting took place in Chicago in 1893 and was immediately enlarged by the addition of delegates from ten countries. There are now 36 countries who send delegates to the meetings of the council and take active interest in its work.

Among the things in which the Council is very much interested, Mrs. Mead cited the extension of suffrage for women in the promotion of world wide peace, in pursuance of which policy they have petitioned the United States to enter the World Court of the League of Nations; the question of education, for which they desire to promote research work in eugenics; regional planning, which will safeguard the health of the community as well as add to its beauty; the inspiration of patriotic feeling; the endeavors to organize and invent a universal language, the Esperanto, which will be a simple matter of pronetics with no idioms and no irregular verbs. Mrs. Mead thinks that the popularity of the radio will make the people aware of this need, which would be an aid to commerce, literature and science and a good way to bring the people of all nationalities together to learn something of each other.

INTERESTING FACTS OF HISTORY

George Washington and His Commission

On July 3, 1775, Gen. George Washington took command of the colonial forces at Cambridge, Mass., within the shadow of Harvard College. This event will be appropriately celebrated on July 3, 1925.

The commission, which made George Washington "General and Commander-in-Chief of the Army of the United Colonies" by vote of the Continental Congress at Philadelphia, is dated June 19, 1775, and is signed by John Hancock, who was then President of Congress.

This commission was the first historic document signed by John Hancock and next to the Declaration of Independence, signed by him the next year, is the most important.

The original engrossed copy of the Washington commission can be seen in the Library of Congress. A photographic copy of this commission, as well as a facsimile of the Declaration of Independence, has been reproduced by the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston.

The John Hancock Mutual is particularly interested in insuring college men and women and obtaining ambitious college graduates for the personnel of its fieldstaff.
